Equal Liberty, the Birthright of all Men.

Dr. FRANKLIN, in a document addressed, we believe, to the first Congress of the U. S., declared his firm belief in the sentiment that "Equal Liberty was the Birthright of all Men." Of course Dr. Franklin knew what he believed, as a member of the Convention which issued the Declaration of Independence, and he knew that his sentiments were shared by all the great array of patriots, from North and South.

The men of those days had the courage to act out their principles, and when they came to make Constitutions for the States, they provided for equal suffrage; and it is said to be a fact that in the Constitutions of all the original thirteen States, the word "white" does not occur as a qualification for voting. Property qualifications were made in some of the States, but color was not made a test.

The black men of the revolutionary days were called upon to fight for their country, and answered nobly to the call: so did they in the war of 1812.

The first man slain in that affray at Boston between the people and the British troops, preliminary to the war, was a colored man. History says:

"The guard were called, and in marching to the Custom House, they encountered a band of populace, led by a mulatto named Attucks, who brandished their clubs, and pelted them with snow-balls. The maledictions, the imprecations, the execrations of the multitude, were horrible. In the midst of a torrent of invective from every quarter, the military were challenged to fire.—The populace advanced to the points of their bayonets. The soldiers appeared like statues; the cries, the howlings, the menaces, the violent din of bells still sounding the alarm, increased the confusion and the horror of these moments; at length the mulatto and twelve of his companions, pressing forward, environed the soldiers, and striking their muskets with their clubs, cried to the multitude, "be not afraid, children of men, before the laws of the commonwealth they dare not fire; why do you hesitate, why do you not kill them, why not crush them at once." The mulatto lifted his arm against Capt. Prescot, and having turned one of the muskets, he seized the bayonet with his left hand, as if he intended to execute his threat. At this moment confused cries were heard. "The wretches dare use fire." Firing succeeds. Attucks is slain. The other discharges follow. Three were killed, five severely wounded, and several slightly."

EDWARD EVERETT said, in his recent address at the inauguration of the Warren Statue:

"It is the monument of the day, of the event, of the battle of Bunker Hill; of all the brave men who shared its perils—alike Prescott, and Putnam, and Warren—the chiefs of the day, and the colored man Salem, who is reported to have shot the gallant Pitcairn as he mounted the parapet. Cold as the clods on which it rests; still as the silent heaven to which it soar, it is yet vocal, eloquent, in their undivided praise.

Colored battalions were raised in nearly all the States, and fought bravely through the war. Said Senator Wilson of Mass.,—"Whenever the country has required their blood in the days of peril and conflict, they have given it freely, and we have accepted it; but in times of peace, when their blood is not needed, we shun and trample them under foot. I have no part in this great wrong to a race. Wherever, and whenever we have the power to do it, I would give to all men, of every clime and race, of every faith and creed, freedom and equality before the law. My voice and my vote shall ever be given for the equality of all the children of men before the laws of the wealth of Massachusetts and the United States."

The black men fought in our ships in those days, and Captain Shuler of the stout old brig General Tompkins, thus speaks of two of his crew:

"The name of one of my poor fellows who was killed ought to be registered in the books of fame, and remembered with reverence as long as bravery is considered a virtue. He was a black man by the name of John Johnson. A 24-pound shot struck him in the hip and took away all the lower part of his body. In this state the poor brave fellow lay on the deck, and several times exclaimed to his shipmates, fire away my boys! —no hand a color down!"

"The other was also a black man by the name of John Davis, and was struck in much the same way. He fell near me, and several times requested to be thrown overboard, saying, he was only in the way of others. While America has such tars, she has little to fear from the tyrants of Europe."

In the war of 1812, Gen. JACKSON called upon the colored men for aid, in the following language:

"Through a mistaken policy you have heretofore been deprived of a participation in the glorious struggle for national rights in which our country is engaged. This no longer shall exist. As sons of freedom, you are now called upon to defend our most inestimable blessing. As Americans, your country looks with confidence to her adopted citizens for a valorous support, as a faithful return for the advantages enjoyed under her mild and equitable government. As fathers, husbands and brothers, you are summoned to rally around the standard of the eagle to defend all which is dear in existence."

And the General thanked them after the battle, in which four of them participated:

"Soldiers!—When on the banks of the Mobile I called you to take up arms, inviting you to partake the perils and glory of your white fellow-citizens, I expected much of you; for I was not ignorant that you possessed qualities most formidable to an invading enemy. I knew with what fortitude you could endure hunger and thirst, and all the fatigues of a campaign. I knew well how you loved your native country, and that you, as well as ourselves, had to defend what man holds most dear—his parents, wife, children and property.—You have done more than I expected. In addition to the previous qualities I before knew you to possess, I found among you a noble enthusiasm which leads to the performance of great things. Soldiers!—the President of the United States shall hear how praiseworthy was your conduct in the hour of danger, and the representatives of the American people will give you the praise your exploits entitle you to. Your General antheinates them in applauding your noble ardor."

We have not space to pursue the subject today; but we have said enough, we trust, to set some reader, hitherto indifferent upon the question of colored suffrage, to reflection as to whether some small degree of consideration is not due from those who are enjoying the blessings of Liberty here, to a race of men who helped to win those blessings for us. The subject is by no means exhausted.

The Illinois Banks.

The Springfied (Ill.) Journal gives a table, containing the location, amount of stock deposited, and bills issued, of the 45 banks of that State.—The aggregate amount of stocks deposited is $6,171,903, and of bills issued $5,535,560.

(The aggregate amount of stocks deposited with the Comptroller of this State was, July 1st, $5,517,950, and the amount of circulation $2,926,060.)

The Journal says:

Of the suspended banks, the Auditor is now redeeming the bills of the "Stock Security Bans" at 86c. on the dollar. "The People's Bank," has on deposit stock to the amount of $127,500, and a circulation of $110,800. The bonds are not yet sold, but will be shortly, of which fact bill holders will have due notice. The other suspended banks have now but few notes in circulation, which are redeemable by the Auditor on presentation.

The general decline in the value of stocks, for some time past, has made the business of watching the condition of various banks very onerous; but thus far they have cheerfully and promptly complied with the requirements of the law, and responded to the calls of the Auditor and bank commissioners. Their condition now appears to be generally satisfactory.

Some of these Illinois banks, located at towns of small importance in the interior of the State, roll up an enormous circulation. We select a few examples:

Name.	Place.	Stocks.	Circ'n.
Belleville,	Belleville,	$229,538	$229,338
Southern Ill.,	Bolton,	292,000	245,000
B'k of Repub'c,	McLeansboro,	449,650	105,040
Com'l Exch'g,	Fairfield,	260,740	248,820
Grayville,	Grayville,	272,578	171,555
B'k of Ill,	New Haven,	151,000	130,970

Some of these banks, whose circulation is about equal to their deposit with the Auditor, will bear watching.

THE GAME LAWS.—The Janesville Gazette contains the following provisions of the Game laws of this State, They "provide that Woodcock may be shot between the first Tuesday in July and the first day of March; Grouse or Prairie Chicken, from the 12th of August to January 1st; to the Patridges from the first Tuesday in September to the 1st of Febuarary; Quail from the first Tuesday in October to the 1st of Febuarary. Every person who kills one of these birds at other times than these mentioned above, makes himself liable to a fine, one-half of which goes to the complainant. These laws were enacted for the preservation of the game in the State, and every violation of them should be followed by the penalty.

MORTALITY AMONG U. S. SENATORS.—Out of the fifty-nine members of the Senate during the last Congress, no less than five have already passed away, viz: Messrs Clayton, of Dalaware; Bell, of New Hampshire; Adams, of Mississippi; Butler, of South Carolina; and Rusk, of Texas.

Also, two members of President Pierce's Cabinet, viz: Gov. Marcy, Secretary of State, and Mr. Dobbin, Secretary of the Navy.

CHINESE SUGAR CANE.—The Prairie Beacon says, Mr. Baker, of Rochester Mills, Ills., is trying the experiment with the new sugar cane on the largest scale that we have ever yet heard of. He has now twenty acres growing on his farm. He is said to have stated the other day that it promised a fine crop. He is building a large mill, and procuring large cast iron tanks, to be used in the manufacture of the sap into molasses and sugar.

A PHILADELPHIA KHAN.—The Philadelphia Bulletin learns from Persia that Mr. Washington Carroll Tobin, of Philadelphia, lately in the service of the Sultan as Nessim Boy, has been made a Khan by the Shah, and received the title of Ranjeet Khan. His rank is that of Lieutenant-Col. of Artillery, and he is employed to reorganize the Persian army entirely. He has also received from the Sultan of Turkey a medal for his services in the war with Russia.

GAS AND STEAM IN EGYPT.—A company from Nice has entered into a contract with the Egyptian Government to light Alexandria with gas, and has already commenced the construction of the works. The Nile Steam Navigation Co. has already three steamers running, and is expecting nine others from Holland and England.

HANDSOME RAILROAD SUBSCRIPTION.—At a meeting held last week at West Union, Iowa, in behalf of the McGregor and St. Peters Railroad, the citizens subscribed $80,000 to the stock of the company.

THE GOODWOOD RACE.—Bell's Life in London, represents that Mr. Ten Broeck, the owner of the American horses, ascribed his defeat to Gilpatrick, the rider of Prioress, and discharged him on the spot. Porter's Spirit of the Times, we notice, takes Mr. Ten Broeck severely to task for entrusting his horses to Palmer, the trainer. Porter says:

By reference to our special telegraphic report, it will be seen, that though our horses looked so fine to the eye, that Prioress elicited an involuntary burst of admiration when she first appeared, that as soon they felt the strain of the contest, they frothed and luthered and gave unmistakeable evidence of being full of fat. This grossness of condition may be attributed to several causes, but more particularly to the deficient judgment and want of discrimination on the part of their trainer.

There were difficulties enough before us, in our daring experiment, to require a capacity and an experience of the highest and most accomplished kind; and the difficulties which presented themselves in this case at the outset, were those which Palmer, of all men, was most unable to meet. The stimulating climate of England, never too hot nor too cold, is peculiarly adapted to increasing animal life; while the strong feed of English oats, and the pea, either of which are nearly up to the strength of our corn, must have coated their insides with fat, which he had neither the knowledge nor the courage to work off.

There is something to be said, also, in relation to Mr Ten Broeck in this matter, who, it will be recollected, was absent from his horses for nearly five months after his arrival in Europe. It has been his misfortune, either through want of judgment or experience in racing, to imagine that there is not much difference in the capacity of trainers, and that a horse's merits are paramount to any deficiency on their part. Hence his large losses at the commencement of his Turf career. His subsequent success may be, in a great measure, attributed to the fact of his having fallen in with the best trainer in America—Mr. Pryor.

It will be seen the show that our horses at Goodwood had but a poor chance to win—the owner being very superficially informed in relation to the character and capacity of the race-horse, and the trainer being considered scarcely second-rate in this country. There is but little wonder, therefore, that the glaring deficiency of our horses, in relation to want of condition, should have elicited the sympathy even of their English opponents.

NEW VILLAGE—GLEN BEULAH.—The Sheboygan Journal notices a new village, called Glen Beulah, which is springing up in that county at the terminus of the first division of the Sheboygan & Miss. R. R. The Journal says:

Many new buildings have been completed and a large number are now in course of construction. Among the latter is a large flouring mill, which will be completed and in running order the coming fall; the proprietors, Messrs. Swift, Bellingham & Co., who are men of capital and enterprize, have also just completed a large store and are filling it with a heavy stock of dry goods groceries, etc.

A gentleman from Boston, we learn, has recently arrived there with the intention of erecting a first-class hotel immediately.

NEW YORK STATE PRISON.—The recent report of the Inspectors of the New York State Prison, discloses the following facts:

In 1855, it appears the expenses exceeded the the income only about eleven thousand dollars, whereas in former years the excess has varied from $30,000 to over $50,000. The Inspectors say this improvement is owing very much to the law of 1854, which requires purchases to be made for cash, and imposes several salutary restrictions on the financial operations of the officers. At Auburn, the earnings exceed the expenses by $8,710. The balance on the other side at Sing Sing is $9,565. At Clinton $10,084. The number of prisoners is, at Auburn, 886; at Sing, 975, (women 101) at Clinton, 204.

☞ Thousands of dogs are drowned at the dog pound in New York every summer. The carcases of the dogs are taken to Barren Island, where every part of them is turned to some useful account. The fat is tried out, the skins are sold to glovers, and of the bones De Burg makes superphosphate of lime.

Letters about Milwaukee and Wisconsin.

NUMBER TWO.

MY DEAR[illegible].—You are probably prepared from the nature of my last, for another eruption of the malady which so certainly takes possession of every new resident, as the fever and ague is indigenous to the climate of the Western country. And as ague-cakes ingenitally severer than an attack, you will be surprised to find that my paragraphs are not confined to Milwaukee, but extend to the State, in which it is located.

Did you ever examine a map of the same? You would be charmed with the infinite number of lakes, with which the surface is overspread, from the minutest portion, entitled to the name of a body of water, to the magnificent sheet of Winnebago, some thirty miles in length. They are like so many amulets strung together, the gift of some sylvan god, to protect the country from evil: or as gems sprinkled in lavish profusion, from an abundant hand, which knows not its own wealth. This beautiful feature makes Wisconsin decidedly a Lake country, and it may in time claim a class of Lake poets. Imagine it skirted on the North, and East by the two great inland seas of Superior and Michigan, on the West by the great Father of Waters; threaded by innumerable rivers; enamelled by a thousand lakes; studded here and there with beautiful Oak openings; swelling occasionally into prairies, or covered again with heavy timber, and your love of the beautiful and picturesque will be carried captive. Add to this, its mineral wealth, its fertility of soil, and salubrity of climate, and you will have an idea of the prominence to which it is entitled in our world-renowned Union. Its comparative merits are not sufficiently appreciated; the late offspring of Uncle Sam, it is yet in its adolescence; but a child of great promise. Its advantages of being well wooded, and watered, joined to remarkable salubrity of climate, are of paramount importance, and place it on a scale far above many of her neighboring States. It covers an area of 54,000 square miles; but an extensive portion of the northwest is not yet redeemed from its native wildness. It contains fifty incorporated cities; though by an eastern standard, none but Milwaukee have the developements of a city. With city organizations, they are prospectively such; cities in embryo, they count on the great future, to nourish them into strength and manhood. Madison is the capital, and most picturesquely located upon elevated ground, between two of those lovely gems of water, to which I have before alluded; there are two others, close in its vicinity, and are respectively named Mendota, Menona, Waubesa, and Kingsa.

It is pleasant, occasionally, to find and exemption from that vandalism of the white man, which seeks to efface from our country every impress of its aboriginal inhabitants; which would obliterate its poetry, as they drive out the red man with their enterprize and commerce. Indian names which are at all pronounceable, should be preserved in preference to importing them from foreign climes, to duplicating those already worn out by repetition, or to immortalizing individual patronymics, which have no claim to perpetuity. Our poetry should be written upon our hills and streams; our nationality and individuality, inscribed upon our mountains, and lakes; our independance, and its history, blazoned on the whole face of the country. The memory of our patriots, and statesmen, should be built up in the walls of our towns and cities; every legend, petty tradition and superstition connected with the race which is fast becoming extinct, should be woven into verses, our antecedents fanned into song, and prolonged through the gallery of time, by poets of our own soil. As a nation, we have all the elements within ourselves; as a country the field is unbounded for the exercise of poetry in all of its departments. There is a music in Horicon, Waukesha, and Kenosha, far more grateful to the ear, than the buckneyed names of an old country. A modern Athens, Rome, and Palmyra, seem puny in their association with departed glory. Menomonee, Milwaukee and Sheboygan, have hardly the laughing, open sound of Minnehaha and Hiawatha, but perhaps upon the same basis, as our native Chippagans, they but need a Longfello-a, like a Longworth, to convert the still into the sparkling Catawba. Au Revoir.

ENIGMA.

THE OHIO DEFALCATION.—Mr. Gibson, the late Treasurer of Ohio, has recently been examined under oath. He says:

Every dollar of the public moneys which came to my hands while I filled the office of Treasurer of State was faithfully applied to the public service, or handed over to my successor, and not a dollar of such money is now in my hands, or remains unaccounted for.

The following question and answer are important:

Q. 26. What was your motive in carrying such a debt?

ANS. My motive was two-fold. It concerned both the State and myself. Mr. Breslin's official bond was for $250,000, whilst the default exceeded $500,000, besides the sums reported.

I was one of his sureties. Many of my personal friends and neighbors were bound with me.—I had no knowledge or suspicion of the default until some time after I came into office. Its immediate exposure involved the pecuniary ruin of myself and co sureties, as well as a great loss to the State. I could not see that delay would jeopardize any interests whatever. He never expressed any want of willingness or ability to liquidate the balance due from him. He gave me his earnest and repeated assurances that he would do so in a short time. The alternative was to make an immediate exposure, and thereby involve myself and friends in pecuniary ruin, and the State in certain loss, or conceal the fact, and exert myself to secure the amount due to the State.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—A correspondent of the Chicago Times, who has recently made a trip over the Pennsylvania route to the East, writes from New Haven to that paper as follows:

Editors Times—I told you I could do it, and I have done it—have with my family of eleven in all traveled from the Garden City to this of Elms, in a manner so comfortable that my usual serenity of temper has been disturbed but once, the good cause of which I will presently state; but first let me tell you of the pleasant part of the trip. Having provided myself with tickets from that indefatigable man and prince of agents, Wm. Buss, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, upon whose ever good natured countenance I thought the sale of tickets at wholesale had a happy effect, we took seats in the comfortable cars of that road, and after a delightful ride with attentive and obliging conductors, reached Pittsburg.

* * * *

The ride over the mountain by the great Pennsylvania Road, with its polite and obliging conductors and comfortable cars, would of itself be a luxury, but the mountain scenery adds greatly to the enjoyment of the trip; altogether it is the best appointed road and most interesting scenery I have ever seen. The change of cars at Harrisburg has been done away with since the purchase of the State road by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and but two changes of cars occur now from Chicago to Philadelphia.

* * * *

From Philadelphia, after a pleasant stay of a few days, we came to New York by the Camden and Amboy line—an exceedingly pleasant route, affording a fine sail and view of the city and harbor.

* * * *

From Chicago to New York, I know of no more delightful route than that via Fort Wayne, Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

☞ The Milwaukee and Horicon Railroad is now open to Berlin; and the citizens of the surrounding country have been celebrating the event which has brought the eastern world another half day nearer their doors. This company, notwithstanding the scoffing and sneers of its enemies and the croakings of the Fogy family, has gone steadily on minding its own business, and establishing public faith by its works; the magnitude and importance of which are second to no other railroad enterprize in Wisconsin. By the present arrangement Milwaukee is only about eight or ten hours from Wautoma, and Stevens' Point is fully twenty-four hours farther east than it was last Sunday. So clear the track!—Wautoma Journal.

"John," said a father to his son one day, when he caught him shaving the "down" off his upper lip, "don't throw your shaving water out where there are any barefooted boys, for they might get their feet pricked."

The English Attack on the Chinese War Junks.

A correspondent of the London Times gives a graphic account of the attack of the English fleet on the Chinese war junks. We extract the following:

ASSAULT UPON THE JUNKS—A "HELL OF FLYING IRON."

From the top of the hill I have a most magnificent panoramic view of the operations below. Lieutenant Fowler has brought one of the Chinese guns to bear upon the junks, and the junks fire up at us, but neither do much damage. Now Elliot and his captains run down to their boats and follow the Haughty, which is already clear of the island and up with the junks beyond.—The marines descend into the paddyfields at the foot of that side of the hill fort which faces the junks, and, up to the waist in water, they take out shots at the Chinamen. The Haughty drives right stem on into one of the two large junks that have been sweeping the channel, and cracks her like a nut shell. Forsyth jumps first on board, and the crew jump overboard. It is the old story, "Spose you come, I must go." The shots must be flying furiously down there, for 30 junks are blazing away their 12 guns each at the intruders, who rush into their creek from our side of the island, and 40 are equally rapid in their discharges upon the boats that have gone up on the other side. How any mortal thing can live in that hell of flying iron it seems impossible to conceive. The secret, I believe, lies in the resolution of our men. They pull directly up alongside, and from the elevation of the guns the inevitable broadside of grape passes over their heads. I saw this happen in the case of Commodore Elliot's boat, which emerged unharmed from a charge I thought had annihilated it.—The junk had coolly waited till the boat was alongside, and then poured in its shot. It all passed high, and when the smoke cleared away the crew were running across the paddyfields, and the marines were shooting them.

The game was up. First came a rush of fire and a loud explosion. A pillar of white smoke rises high in the air and swells at the top like a Doric column. Then another and another, and the guns cease, and the cannon smoke blows away, and the boat's crews are rowing from junk to junk, and in two long lines, almost as far as the eye can reach, lie the junks, some kindling, some in full blaze, but all stranded and abandoned.

NOW UP THE RIVER WITH A RUSH.

"Never wait, lads," cried the Commodore, "leave those rascals to the gunboats and the fellows behind; push on ahead!"

Through the wilderness of junks they pulled, driving out their own crews by sheer audacity, and leaving little to be done by those who should come after. They shot through the flues up into the vacant channel. Some of the boats had been hulled by the junks; perhaps some lingered to pay a visit to a deserted Chinaman, or to stop his mouth; but Keppel still pressed onward, and where he goes he always gets a name to follow. Where could he be going? Was it information or was it intuition? or has he resolved to attack with his seven boats the city of Fatshan and its population of 200,000 people? I have not asked him, and he has not said, but I suspect the city was his object.

With four galleys and three boomboats, carrying a gun each in their bows, they speed away from the conquered junks, and hold on for nearly four miles; but now there are junk masts in sight, and every one knows that a fight is coming. A little further on, and they come upon their prey, and also upon one of those strong positions which the Chinese have now learned how to take.

CUTTING THEM OUT—A SANGUINARY BATTLE.

No sooner did the boats appear in the narrow passage than twenty 32-pounders sent twenty round shot, and a hundred smaller guns sent their full charges of grape and canister at a range of 500 yards right among them. The effect was terrible. Keppel was sounding with the boat hook for water for the boomboats, and went back amid the storm to get them up. They start afresh and make another effort to get through. The Commodore pushes on ahead. If the guns of the Excellent had been in those Chinese junks, and had worked those 32-pounder guns, they could hardly have thrown the round shot straighter. Keppel's galley, not a large mark, is hit three times in two minutes: a 32-pounder shot strikes Major Kearny in the breast, tearing him to pieces. He must have died without a sensation. Young Barker, a midshipman of the Tribune, who were upon his finger a ring bequeathed to him by his brother, who was killed at Inkerman, is down, mortally wounded. The Commodore's coxswain is killed, and every man of his crew are wounded. But the miracle is not that the men are falling, but that any escape. The God of Battle is there, and wonderful are the instances of His merciful protection. Captain Cochrane has the sleeve of his coat torn away by a shot, which leaves him unharmed.

A round shot enters the Tribune's boat and passes along her line of keel, from stem to stern without touching a man. "That was close, Victor," said Keppel to his flag lieutenant, as the cannon shot passed between their heads. Fortunately for himself, Victor (Prince Victor of Hohenlohe, as thorough and unpretending a British seaman as if his name were Drake or Jervis) was leaning forward, and using his handkerchief as a tourniquet to stop the bleeding of a seaman whose hand had just been shot off, otherwise that ball must have taken Victor's head off. At the time the galley was disabled, and she was drifting down under the guns of the junks.—Even Keppel saw that it would not do. The matter was, however, settled for him, for the next shot tore away the stern sheets of his galley while he was fortunately standing up with the tiller ropes in his hand. "Seymour, you must take me in," and he stepped from his sinking galley into the barge of the Calcutta. All the other occupants of the galley were also removed into the barge, all except the mangled corpse of the coxswain and the favorite dog of the Commodore, who had been accustomed to be tended by that man, and would not leave his body. With this freight the wreck of the galley drifted with the rising tide up toward the junks.

SPOILS OF THE VANQUISHED.

After the battle the British fleet flaunted with barbaric spoils; banners of every amplitude, some of them adorned with colossal pictures of the fat god Fo, flaunted upon the breeze. Mandarins coats and Mandarins' breeches were freely worn. Commodore Elliot's crew were equipped each with a Mandarins' hat and foxes' tails.—They had dutifully reserved one for the Commodore, but I must confess I did not see him put it on. Around, for as the eye could reach, following the windings of this maze of creeks, eighty-nine war junks were smouldering or blazing, and every five minutes an explosion shook the air.

Next morning, as we passed down the river, two war junks appeared three miles astern, and fired a gun. They were chasing the barbarian fleet!

BADGER STATE SAFES!

FIRE & BURGLAR PROOF

THE WIDE EXTENDED and constantly increasing reputation which ourselves have acquired, for unequalled durability and finish, warrants us in calling the attention of the public to our increased facilities for manufacturing the same.

The numerous improvements which we have added to our Steam Works, (Nos. 215, 217 and 221 East Water St.) places us beyond the reach of competition in our line of business.

These several tests which the Badger State Safe has stood both in this city and elsewhere, establishes its proof against fire and water for the protection of valuables.

A CARD.

I TAKE pleasure in acknowledging, on behalf of the Milwaukee & Mississippi R. R. Company, the prompt action of the "State Insurance Company," of Hartford, Conn., in paying the Insurance on the Mail Mule Freight and Passenger building. The policy was effected for the 23d day of July. The building was destroyed by fire on the 30th day of July—seven days after effecting the Insurance, and to day I have received from their Agent, W. Henry Holland, Esq., $5,000—the amount insured. Such promptness deserves the consideration of the Insuring public.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

AUTHORS NOT FATHERS.—Mr. Walter Savage Landor has been calling the attention of the British public to the fact—made known by William Howitt—that some of Shakspeare's descendants are in needy circumstances, with a view of procuring relief for them. But it is quite impossible that any descendant of Shakspeare should be in want, because there has been no such person in existence for nearly a hundred years. Shakspeare died in 1616, leaving two daughters only, Susanna and Judith. Judith married Mr. Thomas Quiney a short time before her father's death. Three sons were born to her, but they all died before her, and she herself died in 1662.

Susanna, the eldest daughter, married Dr. John Hall, and died 1649. The sole issue of this marriage was a daughter, Elizabeth Hall, who was born before her grandfather's death, and is mentioned in his will, though called his "niece," a word used at that time to denote relationship generally. She was twice married; first to Mr. Thomas Nash, and to Sir John Barnard, but she never had any children, and died in 1670. With her ended the direct line of Shakspeare.

It is curious how few of the great men of England, whether in literature, science, or government, have left descendants. The line of Shakspeare is extinct, as we have seen; so is that of Milton, Bacon, Newton, Harvey, Pope, Gibbon, Johnson, Swift, Lord Mansfield, Pitt, Fox, Gray, Cowper, Collins, Thompson, Goldsmith, Gay, Congreve, Hume, Bishop, Butler, Locke, Hobbes, Adam Smith, Bentham, Wollaston, Davy, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Flaxman, Gainsborough, Sir Thos. Lawrence, who were married, or never had children. Burke's son died before, him and so did Sheridan's daughter. Addison's daughter died unmarried. We are not aware that there are any lineal representatives of Chaucer, Spencer, Dryden, Jeremy Taylor, Hooker, or Barrow. We have only mentioned such names as occurred to us without a book; a little research might doubtless much increase the list.—Boston Cour.

THE THING THAT SHOULD BIND THE TWO NATIONS TOGETHER.—Frederick Peel, when he was taken to the Atlantic Submarine Telegraph Company's Office, and saw the miles upon miles of iron wire cable, shook his head most ominously, and a roar was observed to steal into his manly eye, as he said in a tone of the deepest despondency, "Ah! ah! A sad mistake—it should have been red tape!"—Punch.

A HERO'S JOKE.—If brevity is the soul of wit, Sir Colin Campbell, when in answer to the question, how soon he could start for India, he answered, "To-morrow!" uttered one of the smartest recorded pieces of ready wit.—Punch.

$100 PER MONTH, net profit, can be made with a capital of from $5 to $200, in a new business, already in successful operation in some of the New England States. Any active, capable person intending to locate in the Western States will be sure to realize a fortune in a very short time. A full description of the business, with instructions how to engage in it with success, will be forwarded to the address of any person forwarding to the address of the subscriber, one dollar, together with a letter stamp for the returning letter. The business may be made permanent in every city and village in the land, is very easily carried on, and the two which a very small capital (when in the true pursuit of success), will pay a large profit, and for which every person creates a demand. It is from the fact that there are so many young men out of employment that would be glad of any suggestion that would benefit them, that I make this proposal.

New Tin and Galvanized IRON ROOFING ESTABLISHMENT

THE undersigned having established themselves in this city for the purpose of putting on Tin and Galvanized Iron Roofing, manufacturing Tin and Galvanized Iron Gutters, Conductors, Cornice and all other jobbing in their line of business, are respectfully solicited. They feel confident of giving the public satisfaction, as they have had a long and unlimited experience in eastern cities.

All who are in want of work of this kind, (especially Tin Roofing) will do well to call on them, as they are contracting elsewhere, as they can hold out inducements worthy of notice. All work done by them will be executed in the best manner and of the best quality of material.

TO RENT.

ONE of the most comfortable houses in the city, on No. 346, near Mason st. The rent is very low.
aug15 OGDEN & WALL.

CITY LAND OFFICE.

THE Maps of Judge Smith's Addition, 5th Ward, are now ready for delivery, and all are invited to call and get one. The sale of said lots takes place on the 19th day of August, at 10 o'clock A. M., at our Land Office, on Michigan street, opposite the Newhall House. The terms of sale are very easy; Eight years credit, by making yearly payments. The first payment is twenty per cent. There is no part of this City of Milwaukee so beautiful and inviting as Judge Smith's addition. The fact is, too much cannot be said about it. For the purpose of giving every one a good opportunity of seeing Judge Smith's addition, we have put our carriage at our Land Office every day, from 11 A. M., until 3 P. M., and will with pleasure give any one a ride to said Addition, and give them all information about the lots. Three days previous to the sale we will have all the premises in the city engaged to convey all who may be desirous to view the said Addition. The sale on the 19th of August, recollect, takes place at our Land Office on Michigan street. We desire that every one should see this addition, and secure themselves a home, in what we think is the most beautiful spot of Milwaukee. OGDEN & WALL.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN AND ST. PAUL PACKET CO.
IN CONNECTION WITH
MILWAUKEE & MISSISSIPPI R. R.
SHIPPERS OF FREIGHT and the Merchants of the Upper Mississippi River are notified that merchandize for the various Landings marked to the care of the Milwaukee & Mississippi, Sault Road at Prairie du Chien, will be received there on the Levee by the undersigned for shipment at Tariff Rates to
By steamer Milwaukee, Captain Hewitt.
" Bacon, " Whiten.
" Ocean Wave, " Anderson.
One of which new and superior side wheel boats leaves the Prairie every day at 5 o'clock for St. Paul, arriving there the next day at 10 o'clock A. M.
It is the object of both the Road and the Boats to prevent all unnecessary charges, and as goods are transferred by the Rail Road Company directly from the cars to the Levee, without any expense to the consignee, no commissions whatever will be permitted to be charged.
Merchants will bear this in mind in making their shipments, and as it is the intention of every one connected with this Route to make it a popular one, no delay will take place in sending freights forward.
For Prairie du Chien Packet Company,
E. J. HILLS, General Agent.
N. B.—Consignments of Reapers, Mowers Threshing Machines and Machines received as above.

New Line of Propellers.
BUFFALO, CLEVELAND AND CHICAGO LINE.
1857 1857
During the season of Lake navigation of 1857, the following named Propellers will run between Buffalo and Chicago, touching at Cleveland and intermediate ports, forming a tri-weekly Line for the transportation of freight and passengers:

Propeller	FOUNTAIN CITY	500 tons burthen
do	GALENA	do
do	DAODAH	do
do	MENDOTA	do
do	WENONA	do
do	EVERGREEN CITY	do
do	OTTAWA	do
do	KENOSHA	do

All of the above vessels are new, having been built within the past year, expressly for the Upper Lake trade, and are of great strength of hull and power of engine, securing to shippers of freight speed, despatch, and a certain of insurance than any other line.
They will be fitted out with all the modern improvements introduced for the safety of passengers and freight, with spacious and well arranged cabins for families and emigrants, affording them the cheapest, safest and quickest transit from Buffalo and Cleveland to ports on the west shore of Lake Michigan.
The vessels of this line will run in connection at Buffalo with the
NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD, AND THE
Troy and Western Line of Canal Boats,
On the Erie Canal; at Cleveland with the Cleveland, Pittsburgh & Wheeling Railroad,
Furnishing each of these companies tri-weekly accommodations for the shipment of freight and passengers.

Later from Europe.

The Arabia, with several days later dates from Europe, arrived at New York yesterday. A synopsis of her news will be found under the Telegraph head. The most important item is the successful completion of the great act of laying the Atlantic Telegraph Cable. We may now daily hope to hear of the arrival of the Telegraph fleet off the coast of Newfoundland and of the joining together, by electric bonds, of the Old and New World.

Democratic Defection.

The tables in the St. Louis Democrat of Monday show up for Robinson 39,521; for Stewart 39,140—majority for Robinson 381, with five counties to hear from. Those counties are Ripley, Oregon, Butler, Shannon and Howell. The Democrat thinks Robinson is unquestionably elected, but adds: "The nullifiers telegraphed on yesterday, from Jefferson City, that the official returns were increasing Stewart's majorities. The Democrat has already adverted to the suspicious circumstances attending certain returns made at the State Capitol, and we point to this telegraph report as another fact which call for notice at the hands of the people."

The Republican has the following dispatch:

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 15.

The mails are all in for the evening. Rollins is sixteen votes ahead in the eighty officials and twenty-three reported counties. You will see that Stewart gains by the official returns. Democrats here are more sanguine than ever. The counties to be heard from are Butler, Dunklin, Oregon, Ripley, Shannon and Howell—the latter a new county formed out of Oregon.

Kansas—What the South Expects.

The following extract from a private letter, dated at Atchison, Kansas, August 2nd and printed in the South (published at Richmond, Virginia) serves to show what the Slavery propagandists expect to accomplish in Kansas. It will be seen that, with the help of the Sham Democracy, they are not only hopeful, but confident of forcing Slavery upon Kansas:

"The convention to form a State Constitution will meet in September next. They are unanimously Pro-Slavery. The question at issue is, shall the Constitution be submitted? I hope not. Nothing save official patronage brought to bear on the weak-backed members can make a submission pass. The tilbut of the Convention, and I am satisfied the members, too, are against a submission.

"If so decided, the question will come up in Congress, shall Kansas be admitted with a slave Constitution without reference? It is the best we can do; it is all we can do. Will the South stand up to it, or will the Union-Saving compromisers send it back for ratification? Let the South prepare herself for that question. If she backs down, Kansas is lost, and the doom of the South is written fearfully distinct in letters of blood upon the wall. Missouri, thus encompassed, would fold out but a few years in a continuous struggle—Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland and Texas will have the battle on their own borders.

"Admit us, and we have no fear but that it will, for all time to come, remain a Slave State. Missouri will be strengthened—Utah and New Mexico, and perhaps Oregon, will apply for admission, and be Slave States. Northern Texas will be safe; the equilibrium of the North and South restored.

"Assuredly, should the Democratic party (who in this Territory, are almost to a man Pro-Slavery), carry the October elections, there can be no reasonable objection to our admission, North or South. In any event, let public opinion be prepared, for the issue is at hand."

THE MURDERER DEBAY.—A correspondent of the Madison Argus, gives the following account of DEBAY, who murdered Mr. REYNOLDS at Portage City:

John B. Dubay, or Jean Baptiste Dube—he wrote his name both ways, was born in Detroit, in 1802—he is now therefore 55 years old. He removed to Green Bay when he was 9 years old, and in 1825 entered the employ of the Hudson Bay Fur Company. While in their employ, he went as messenger to Selkirk Settlement—nearly 1000 miles northwest from here, and returned while snow was on the ground. He frequented La Pointe, St. Anthony and the other trading posts of this company, and remained in their employ till he settled at Ft. Winnebago 12 or 15 years ago. He has reared a family by an Indian woman, now residing at Little Bull Falls, where he has some property. He was married a few years ago to a daughter of a Frenchman named Jessee, at Portage City. A son of his, now dead we believe, was a student at the University a few years since. One of his daughters, a girl of considerable beauty and some accomplishments, also died, two years ago.

He is a heavy stout man, and his face is badly pitted with scars of the small pox. He was not regarded as a dangerous man, though sometimes quarrelsome when in liquor. He is well known throughout the State, nearly all parts of which he has visited since its settlement.

Whipped in.

[From the Westport (Mo.) Star of Empire.]

Gov. Walker has fully declared himself to be in favor of a six months' residence and payment of taxes, as a qualification not only to vote for the constitution to be made in September next, but also for members of the legislature and all county and interior officers. He is as violent against the abolitionists as a wounded snake. We hope, and have now some show, that he will tumble his speculative scheme overboard, and come out under true colors. The danger of an exposal by the Black Republicans is the only drawback.

CROPS IN ENGLAND AND FRANCE.—The Sussex (Eng.) Advertiser says, from all sides we receive the most gratifying accounts of the crops. The blooming was completed during the most propitious weather, and the rain that did fall during that period only tended to refresh vegetation and impart more fullness to the grain and more vigor to the plant. Wheat cutting has already commenced in several quarters, and in a very few days will be more or less general throughout this district, thus rendering our harvest a full fortnight in advance of those ordinary years.

The news of the harvest from nearly all quarters of France is most cheering. In some the reaping is over, and in other places, where the corn is not yet ready for the sickle, the heat, which in Paris at least is intense, will soon bring it to maturity.

Particulars of the Disaster at Long Island Sound.

A serious and fatal collision occurred on Long Island sound, about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning last, between the steamer Metropolis, Capt. Brown, of the Fall River line of steamers, which was coming up the Sound, and the propeller J. N. Harris, Capt. Leonard Smith, bound from New York to New London. The latter had a crew of eleven persons, all told, and eleven passengers, including three children belonging to Capt. Smith. The collision occurred about half way between Falkland Island and New Haven.—The propeller was struck nearly amidships by the long sharp bow of the steamer, cut in two, and sunk in about three minutes. Three of the passengers only escaped by climbing through the cabin skylight the door being closed tight by the wrenching of the topwork of the vessel. These, with nine others of the crew, including the Captain, were picked up by the boats of the steamer.

The total of the lost were thirteen and of the saved twelve. The collision was caused, according to the account of the Pilot of the Metropolis, by his mistaking the propeller for a schooner sailing down the Sound with a free wind. Governing himself by this idea, he attempted to pass to the left instead of the right of the supposed sailing vessel, while the propeller acted upon the general rule, ported his helm and sheered his vessel the same way—that is, to the southward. As soon as the mistake was discovered by the Pilot of the Metropolis he changed his course. Capt. Smith, of the propeller, doing the same, and simultaneously stopping his engine to allow the steamer to take which side she pleased.—The consequence was a collision, which happily is of very unfrequent occurrence on that crowded marine thoroughfare. The pilot of the steamer alleges that he saw no head light displayed on board the propeller, which confirmed his impressions, in connexion with the heisted sails, that she was a schooner. On this latter point the statement of Capt. Smith is at variance with that of the pilot, for he says a head light was hoisted.

THE PROGRESS OF PACIFICATION—PROCEEDINGS IN THE STAR CHAMBER.—We learn that Mr. O. C. Browne, of Osawatomie, and Mr. Charles Moffat, of Topeka, were arrested last Saturday, at Lecompton. Mr Browne is charged, we understand, with a participation in the troubles at Hickory Point, at Osawatomie and other points last year. What Mr. Moffat is charged with we do not know. Mr. Browne has been admitted to bail. It is also understood that the Grand Jury, at its late sitting at Lecompton, found bills against a large number of our citizens,—and it is quite likely that we may have a batch of treason trials on the docket again.

The object of this new movement is apparent. It is a deliberate return to the old harrassing policy of a year ago. Gov. Walker is at Lawrence with a large body of troops. He has nothing for them to do. The firesenters at Lecompton are determined if possible to force our people into a collision with these troops. To that end, the tax gatherer—instead tool of tyrants—is sent to wring from the hardy, struggling settlers of Kansas their hard-wrought earnings. Prominent citizens are to be arrested on frivolous charges. Insult—menace—injury—are to exasperate the people. The troubles of last year—which we have been urged by Walker, Ferwin & Co., to forget and forgive—to bury, &c., are all to be raked up again—the slumbering embers of hatred and revenge are to be fanned to a fierce flame, old sores partially healed are to be recklessly ripped open, in short, the peaceful policy which Geary inaugurated is to be abandoned, and we are to be carried back to the dreary horrors which characterized the infamously memorable reign of Shannon.

Death of Judge Roys.

We regret to learn of the death of Hon. S. H. Roys, of this city. He died at about 8 o'clock this afternoon, after a sickness of nearly two weeks. His disease was dysentery, and little hope of his recovery had been entertained for several days.

Judge Roys is an old and well known citizen of the county, having resided in it for the past twelve years, during which he has twice represented the people of the Stoughton Assembly District in the Legislature, and was for two years District Attorney of the county. Last spring he was elected County Judge, receiving a large majority of the popular vote, irrespective of party, for the full term, which commences on the first of January next.

He was an industrious, patient, persevering man; a good lawyer; a good citizen; universally esteemed by all that knew him; and, by his death, we have lost one of the most useful and respected members of our community. He was in his thirty-sixth year, and was a native of New Hampshire.—Madison Journal.

An Attempt to Shoot an Editor.

Quite an excitement was created this morning about 10 o'clock, by an attempt of Prosecuting Attorney M. B. Mulkern, to shoot Mr. Dorr, of the Express and Herald. Mr. M., it seems, is in some way remotely connected with a case of seduction, an account of which, too disgusting to copy, appeared in yesterday's Express and Herald; and he entered the office of the paper this morning with a counter statement of the case, asking Mr. D. to publish it. Some words passed between them, when Mr. Mulkern fired at Mr. Dorr twice. Mr. Crosby, the bookkeeper, then sprang towards Mr. M., who shot at him, the powder scarring his right wrist, the only wound received in the affray. Mr. M., snapped his pistol a fourth time as he passed out of the door, chased by Mr. Dorr, with a cane. He was arrested, taken before Justice Gottschalk, and bound over in the sum of one thousand dollars.

Judging from the position of the parties and the ball holes in the office of the Express and Herald, Mr. Dorr and Mr. Crosby both narrowly escaped death. But we live in a Democratic city; Mr. Mulkern holds an office under the rule or misrule of that party, and of course, will escape punishment.—Dubuque Times, 17th.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16, 1857.

The President admits the justice of Mr. Collins' claim for $125,000 back pay, but declines to allow it on the ground that the last Administration decided adversely to it. Mr. Collins will bring suit for the amount in the Court of Claims. The Post office Department is informed of the withdrawal of the Ericsson from the line. The encouragement of ocean steam-navigation will be recommended in the next message to Congress.

The negotiation with New Granada is further complicated by the news received by the last steamer, that a law had been passed erecting Panama into a separate Intendency, and covertly laying an excessive tax on American mails and tonnage. Gen. Cass will soon solve the difficulty by bidding Gen. Herran choose between accepting the treaty proposed by our Government and taking the chance of a resort to force.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

POLICE COURT, AUGUST 19.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

Yesterday was a dull day in Court, the number of cases being small.

Timothy Madden, for being drunk, was fined $5.00, and, in default of payment sent up for 10 days.

Corson Martin, drunk, fined $1.00, and sent up for 3 days.

C. Hill, fast driving on bridge, fined $2.00.

Magdalen Striper, disorderly, tried by a jury of six, found guilty, and fined (with costs) $15,48

John Callighan, drunk, fined $1.00.

The Quickest Time Yet!

The steamer Itasca, of the Milwaukee & Mississippi R. R. Line, on her last trip up to St. Paul, arrived there on the 15th inst., delivering New York papers of the 12th. This is the quickest time yet, and the Milwaukee & Mississippi R. R. route is the quickest, for passengers and freight, between the East and the Northwest.

THE NEWHALL HOUSE—OPEN TO VISITORS TODAY!—We are requested to give notice to our readers that the Newhall House will be open to visitors this day, from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

The splendid furniture has been placed in the parlors, and the building is, to all appearance, ready for guests, though there are various little requisites yet necessary, which will be in readiness in a few days.

A SPLENDID BUILDING.—People who do not wander about town much, and who, if they do travel, do not go through Michigan St. because of its being blocked up with the rubbish of building, do not know what a magnificent front is being put up for Cook's new Banking office. It is elaborately and beautifully carved, in various devices, of the white Athens stone, which by its hardness and fineness of cut is peculiarly adapted for such work. The front alone, four stories and basement, only 40 feet wide, will cost $11,000, and will scarcely be surpassed by any building in the country, west or east.

DAMAGE TO THE PIERS.—We learn that the last gale has damaged the old Government Piers considerably, and washed away the plank walk used by the keeper of the beacon for reaching it in lighting up at night. The outer end of the pier is also in a very precarious condition, and the beacon is likely to go adrift any time.

Whose business is it to attend to this? It lies between the U. S. Harbor Agent, and the Harbor Committee, we presume. Somebody should see to it at once.

REMOVAL—THE STATE BANK.—The State Bank take possession this morning of their new and elegant building, on the north-east corner of East Water and Michigan stre ts. The Bank will occupy the rooms on the first floor, fronting on Michigan and East Water streets. The other rooms on the same floor, as on the floor above, are rented to different Insurance, Banking and other companies; and the whole building pays a handsome interest on the investment. The State Bank, in point of capital and credit, is one of the first institutions in the Northwest.

TICKETS FOR THE FESTIVAL.—It is exceedingly desirable that the Executive Committee and the proprietors of the Newhall House should know, as early as possible, about how many guests they may expect on the night of the Festival.—Those, therefore, of our readers, who propose to attend this grand entertainment (and we hope they all will) will confer a favor on the Committee by procuring their tickets at once. They may be obtained from any member of the Committee, or at the Newhall House.

WISCONSIN FARMERS & MECHANICS CLUB.—This Society holds its third Annual Fair and Show at Whitewater, on the 15th and 16th of September. We have received an invitation to attend, and should be pleased to do so. Their exhibitions have, hitherto, been highly successful, and as the centre of one of the finest agricultural regions in the country, there is abundant ability among the farmers to make a fine display of stock.

THE NEWHALL HOUSE.—The opening of this magnificent hotel is to be appropriately celebrated in Milwaukee on the 25th inst. It is a splendid structure, and is a credit to that enterprising and energetic city. We have received an invitation to be present on the occasion, as well as a pass there and back over the M. & M Railroad. We shall try to be there; and as the Hyatt House is to be opened on the 26th, we shall hope and expect to see many of the guests of the "Newhall" present at the opening of the "Hyatt House." They are the two finest houses in the State, in the two finest cities in the State, and it is fitting that they should be opened for the reception of guests almost at one and the same time.—Janesville Standard.

THE PANORAMA OF EUROPE.—Smith's great Panorama of Europe cannot get away. Crowded houses every evening attest the anxiety of the people to see its vivid pictures of European cities and scenery, and to witness the "Siege of Sebastopol."

Only three days more, however, remain for those who wish to visit this Panorama, as we learn that the exhibition will positively close with this week.

MORE IRON.—The schooner Onward cleared from Oswego, on the 15th, with 320 tons railroad iron, for this port. It will go, we presume, to increase the huge pile of 10,000 or 12,000 tons piled up at the La Crosse R. R. depot.

PEOPLE'S GARDEN.—Another change of programme, with very amusing performances and excellent music, is announced at the People's Garden this evening. See advertisement.

☞ Will sells a fine lot of goods this morning at City auction room, and in addition one of Berliner & Bruno's celebrated Badger State Safes.

Complaint Against the Huron Street Bridge Tender.

MR. EDITOR:—A few days since, one of my ice teams was coming from the west side of Huron street Bridge, intending to cross the Bridge to East Water street. The horses had stopped on the Bridge about ten feet, when the whistle of a steamboat blew the signal for opening the Bridge. The bridge-tender, who was on the east side of the Bridge, told my man to stop, which he did as soon as he was told, the horses by this time having got on to the Bridge a few feet farther. The bridge-tender immediately took the horses by the bits and commenced to violently back them My driver remonstrated with the bridge-tender for his violence, but met with nothing but abuse for his pains, my driver all the while backing his horses as fast as he could.

After the bridge was swung open, and the vessel had passed through, my driver was arrested by the bridge-tender, and was taken to the Police Court. An examination of the case showed the facts to be as I here relate them, and Police Justice Walworth at once discharged my driver.

I complain of this treatment as unjust to my driver, and that not only should my driver have been discharged, as he was, but that the bridge-tender should have been fined for his disorderly conduct; and that a repetition of such conduct by the bridge-tender, should subject him to a dismissal from office.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—3 P. M.

A Postal Convention has been concluded between the United States and Hamburg. The mails are to be exchanged by means of the U. S. or Hamburg mail steamers running between N. Y. and Hamburg. The postage between the U. S and Hamburg under this arrangement, is 10 cents for a single letter of half an ounce or under, pre-payment optional, and 2 cents, pre-payment required. The rates to all countries or places beyond Hamburg, are identically the same in all respects, as the rates charged via. Bremen on the United States and Bremen Postal Convention.

New Orleans papers of the 12th contain articles from the Vera Cruz papers of the 20th ult., and 2nd inst., in relation to the Tehuantepec route.

They urge the Government to make suitable provision for the opening of the business which is to take place in October, and they say everything is progressing in a satisfactory manner.

The papers also notice, in terms of congratulation, the recent arrangement between the different claimants of the grants, and express their confidence in the happy issue of Messrs Benjamin and La Sere's labors.

A favorable issue of the negotiations with Spain was much doubted.

The defences of Vera Cruz and the castle of San Juan were being pushed forward with remarkable activity.

Troops from distant provinces were concentrating at the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz.

The intelligence of insurrections to Mr. Forsyth for a new treaty was received in Mexico with lively interest.

The Texas news is unimportant. The papers abound in contradictory statements with regard to crops.

The road from Goliad to San Antonio was infested with a band of outlaws and murderers, and robberies were of almost daily occurrence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—3 P. M.

The Steamship Persia left at 1.30 P. M., for Liverpool, with 180 passengers and $17,425 in specie.

The U. S. Frigate Mississippi left this morning for China.

PETERSBURG, Va., 28.

There was a tremendous storm at City Point, James River, to day, the ships Riga and Willard, and the schooners Jamestown, Susan and Fanny Peach, were badly damaged. Loss about $3,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.

No New Orleans papers received to-day. The Mobile Mercury has received discouraging accounts of the cotton crop from almost every section of Alabama and Eastern Mississippi; but the crops of wheat and oats are extraordinary, and a great crop of corn is promised.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19—3 P. M.

Hon. David Paul Brown, of this city, was nominated by Americans to-day, for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

Later from Europe.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.

The Royal Mail Steamship Arabia, Captain Stone, from Liverpool Saturday 8th inst. at 11 A. M., arrived at 4 o'clock this P. M.

The steamship Arago arrived at Southampton on the 6th inst.

The steamship Khersonez which was to have left Liverpool for Newfoundland simultaneously with the Arabia, has been withdrawn, having been chartered by the Government to convey troops to India. Her place in the line will be filled in a few days by the steamship Crimean.

The steamships Sarah Sands and Lebanon had also been taken up for India.

GREAT BRITAIN.—In the House of Lords on Thursday, Lord Campbell presented a petition from the Queen and Princess of Oude, residing in England, expressing regret at the revolt in India, and the suspicion attached to their relative, the ex-King. The petition stated that they had read assurances from the King that he was entirely innocent of any complicity in the outbreak, and they prayed that charges against him might be made known, so that he might establish his innocence. Objections were raised on merely technical grounds and it was withdrawn.

The bill authorizing the embodiment of the militia was read a second time, after a brief debate, in the course of which Lord Palmerston and the Duke of Cambridge stated that efforts should be made to induce the requisite number of militia to volunteer for the regular army. Friday's proceedings were devoid of interest.

The shore cable of the Atlantic telegraph, was successfully landed at Valentia Bay on the evening of the 5th. The Lord Lieut. of Ireland received it formally from the officers of the Niagara and Susquehanna, amidst the greatest enthusiasm. The expedition is said to have put to sea, shortly after the landing of the cable, but as the telegraph line to Valentia was not completed, we are without information of its progress.

The weather in England had become rough and stormy, but was rather more settled on Saturday. The Emperor and Empress of the French, accompanied by Count Walewski and a small suit, arrived at Osborne, on a visit to Queen Victoria, on the morning of the 6th, and were received with a royal salute from the fleet at Spithead. A most vigilant surveillance was kept up in the neighborhood of Osborne, and all over the Island, by a strong Police from London.

Bishop Bloomfield, late Bishop of London, died on the 5th inst. from an apoplectic attack.

Petitions calling upon Government to send out a much larger force to India than was contemplated, was receiving numerous signatures.

The house of Carr Brothers & Co., of Newcastle, extensive Colliery owners, had temporarily suspended. Their liabilities were very large, but the assets are said to be ample.

FRANCE.—The trial of the Stations, accused of an attempt to assassinate the emperor, had resulted in a verdict of guilty with extenuating circumstances in favor of Bartolotte and Grilli. The Court sentenced Tobaigi to transportation for life, and Bartolott and Grilli to 15 years imprisonment. The trial excited very little interest.

SPAIN.—The Paris correspondent of the Times, in a letter on the Spanish Mexican question, says from 30,000 to 50,000 men were ready to march into the Mexican territory as auxiliaries against the Spaniards. If any difficulty on the score of nationality had been raised, they would have resumed the Mexican flag, and enrolled themselves as Mexican citizens or soldiers. The Mexican government seems to have no objections to a war with Spain; the same letter says the Spanish government goes on with its military preparations as if no mediation had been accepted. The effective strength of the army is expected to be 120,000 men, and there was a rumor in Madrid, that the royal guard, disembodied under the agency of Espastero, would soon be re-established.

Writing on the 5th, the same correspondent says: It is said in official quarters that contrary to all expectations, the arrangement of all the difficulties existing between the Spanish and Mexican governments has again been suspended, in consequence of accounts received from Mexico by the last mail, and give the rumor without guaranteeing its accuracy.

ITALY.—The search of an English steamer, on which it was expected Mazzini was a passenger, by the officials at Naples, without any previous application for the consent or presence of a British authority, was much talked of at Naples, and the correspondent of the Times believes that a remonstrance had been sent to the Neapolitan government, but without obtaining any answer.

Crops in Italy had all been secured, and the wheat harvest was set down at an average of a crop and a half.

A considerable increase was also anticipated in the quantity of wine.

TURKEY.—A despatch from Vienna states the French Ambassador at Constantinople took down his flag on the 5th, but informed the Turkish Government that he should not leave his post for several days.

It is said that the notes of the four powers, directed against Prince Bogard, were identical, although presented separately.

Prince Vogorines had proceeded to replace the Metropolitan of Moldavia because he refused to preside over the Divan.

Two-hundred houses had been destroyed by fire at Galata.

The tribes of the Mutualis had pillaged the Christians at the town of Sone, and the French consul at Beyrout, and had gone to the spot of demand satisfaction for the outrage.

The Pasha Pays of the 6th announced that the new Turkish Cabinet had consented to declare. The Moldavia elections null and void, and that it proposed to fix the 15th of August for the new elections.

DENMARK.—A concession had been granted to an English Company for the establishment of a sub-marine telegraph between England and the western coast of Schleswig.

RUSSIA.—The Emperor of Russia returned to St. Petersburg on the 21st inst. after his visit to Germany.

A despatch from St. Petersburgh says that Schamyl with the main body of his troops had been beaten at Isuletalia, leaving 400 on the field, while the Russian loss was only 55 killed and wounded.

A letter from St. Petersburg states that Russias modification of the treaty of Paris will enable her to employ operations on the coast of Circassia.

PERSIA.—It is stated that Mr. Murray, the English Minister, had arrived at Teheran on the 6th of June, and was received with honors agreed upon.

INDIA.—From India nothing later from India, but the papers continued to publish details of atrocities committed by the insurgents, furnished from private correspondence.

LAGOS.—Bombardment Sth.—Gen. Wyndham has accepted an important command in India.

It is said the relief in the fall of Delhi has become almost a universal. The reports of its capture previous to the 17th of June, had been found to be unquestionably false. Expectations is now confidently directed to the regular India and China telegraph, which may be looked for Monday or Tuesday next.

The Morning Post publishes the following despatch:

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 6.

The Porte having refused to amend the late election in Moldavia, the Ministers of France, Russia, Prussia and Sardinia have broken off diplomatic relations with that power.

Equal Liberty, the Birthright of all Men.

Dr. FRANKLIN, in a document addressed, we believe, to the first Congress of the U. S., declared his firm belief in the sentiment that "Equal Liberty was the Birthright of all Men." Of course Dr. Franklin knew what he believed, as a member of the Convention which issued the Declaration of Independence, and he knew that his sentiments were shared by all the great array of patriots, from North and South.

The men of those days had the courage to act out their principles, and when they came to make Constitutions for the States, they provided for equal suffrage; and it is said to be a fact that in the Constitutions of all the original thirteen States, the word "white" does not occur as a qualification for voting. Property qualifications were made in some of the States, but color was not made a test.

The black men of the revolutionary days were called upon to fight for their country, and answered nobly to the call; so did they in the war of 1812.

The first man slain in that affray at Boston between the people and the British troops, preliminary to the war, was a colored man. History says:

"The guard were called, and in marching to the Custom House, they encountered a band of populace, led by a negro named Attucks, who brandished their clubs, and pelted them with snow-balls. The maledictions, the imprecations, the execrations of the multitude, were horrible. In the midst of a torrent of invective from every quarter, the military were challenged to fire.—The populace advanced to the points of their bayonets. The soldiers appeared like statues; the cries, the howlings, the menaces, the violent din of bells still sounding the alarm, increased the confusion and the horror of these moments; at length the mulatto and twelve of his companions, pressing forward, environed the soldiers, and striking their muskets with their clubs, cried to the multitude, "be not afraid, children of men, before the laws of the common wealth they dare not fire; why do you hesitate, why do you not kill them, why not crush them at once." The mulatto lifted his arm against Capt. Prescot, and having turned one of the muskets, he seized the bayonet with his left hand, as if he intended to execute his threat. At this moment confused cries were heard. "The wretches dare not fire." Firing succeeds. Attucks is slain. The other discharges follow. Three were killed, five severely wounded, and several slightly."

EDWARD EVERETT said, in his recent address at the inauguration of the Warren Statue:

"It is the monument of the day, of the event, of the battle of Bunker Hill; of all the brave men who shared its perils—alike Prescott, and Putnam, and Warren—the chiefs of the day, and the colored man Salem, who is reported to have shot the gallant Pitcairn as he mounted the parapet. Cold as the clods on which it rests; still as the silent heaven to which it soar, it is yet vocal, eloquent, in their undivided praise.

Colored battalions were raised in nearly all the States, and fought bravely through the war. Said Senator Wilson of Mass.,—"Whenever the country has required their blood in the days of trial and conflict, they have given it freely, and we have accepted it: but in times of peace, when their blood is not needed, we shun and trample them under foot. I have no part in this great wrong to a race. Wherever, and whenever we have the power to do it, I would give to all men, of every clime and race, of every faith and creed, freedom and equality before the law. My voice and my vote shall ever be given for the equality of all the children of men before the laws of the wealth of Massachusetts and the United States."

The black men fought in our ships in those days, and Captain Shaler of the stout old brig General Tompkins, thus speaks of two of his crew:

"The name of one of my poor fellows who was killed ought to be registered in the books of fame, and remembered with reverence as long as bravery is considered a virtue. He was a black man by the name of John Johnson. A 24-pound shot struck him in the hip and took away all the lower part of his body. In this state the poor brave fellow lay on the deck, and several times exclaimed to his shipmates, fire away my boys! —no head a color down!"

"The other was also a black man by the name of John Davis, and was struck in much the same way. He fell near me, and several times requested to be thrown overboard, saying, he was only in the way of others. While American has such tars, she has little to fear from the tyrants of Europe."

In the war of 1812, Gen. JACKSON called upon the colored men for aid, in the following language:

"Through a mistaken policy you have heretofore been deprived of a participation in the glorious struggle for national rights in which our country is engaged. This no longer shall exist. As sons of free dom, you are now called upon to defend our most inestimable blessing. As Americans, your country looks with confidence to her adopted citizens for a vigorous support, as a faithful return for the advantages enjoyed under her mild and equitable government. As fathers, husbands and brothers, you are summoned to rally around the standard of the eagle to defend all which is dear in existence."

And the General thanked them after the battle, in which 400 of them participated:

"Soldiers!—When on the banks of the Mobile I called you to take up arms, inviting you to partake the perils and glory of your white fellow-citizens, I expected much of you: for I was not ignorant that you possessed qualities most formidable to an invading enemy. I knew with what fortitude you could endure hunger and thirst, and all the fatigues of a campaign. I knew well how you loved your native country, and that you, as well as ourselves, had to defend what man holds most dear—his parents, wife, children and property.—You have done more than I expected. In addition to the previous qualities I before knew you to possess, I found among you a noble enthusiasm which leads to the performance of great things. Soldiers!—the President of the United States shall hear how praiseworthy was your conduct in the hour of danger, and the representatives of the American people will give you the praise your exploits entitle you to. Your General anticipates them in applauding your noble ardor."

We have not space to pursue the subject today; but we have said enough, we trust, to set some reader, hitherto indifferent upon the question of colored suffrage, to reflection as to whether some small degree of consideration is not due from those who are enjoying the blessings of Liberty here, to a race of men who helped to win those blessings for us. The subject is by no means exhausted.

The Illinois Banks.

The Springfied (Ill.) Journal gives a table, containing the location, amount of stock deposited, and bills issued, of the 45 banks of that State.—The aggregate amount at stocks deposited is $6,171,995, and of bills issued $5,555,560.

(The aggregate amount of stocks deposited with the Comptroller of this State was, July 1st, $2,517,000, and the amount of circulation $2,929,000.)

The Journal says:

Of the suspended banks, the Auditor is now redeeming the bills of the "Stock Security Bank" at 85c. on the dollar. "The People's Bank," has on deposit stock to the amount of $127,500, and a circulation of $110,300. The bonds are not yet sold, but will be shortly, of which last bill holders will have due notice. The other suspended banks have now but few notes in circulation, which are redeemable by the Auditor on presentation.

The general decline in the value of stocks, for some time past, has made the business of watching the condition of various banks very onerous; but thus far they have cheerfully and promptly complied with the requirements of the law, and responded to the calls of the Auditor and bank commissioners. Their condition now appears to be generally satisfactory.

Some of these Illinois banks, located at towns of small importance in the interior of the State, roll up an enormous circulation. We select a few examples:

Name.	Place.	Stocks.	Circ'n.
Belleville,	Belleville,	$229,853	$220,838
Southern Ill.,	Belton,	292,000	245,000
B'k of Repub'c,	McLeansboro,	449,569	193,049
Com'l Exch'g,	Fairfield,	209,740	248,826
Grayville,	Grayville,	172,553	171,556
B'k of Ill.,	New Haven,	151,000	150,070

Some of these banks, whose circulation is about equal to their deposit with the Auditor, will bear watching.

THE GAME LAWS.—The Janesville Gazette contains the following provisions of the Game laws of this State, They "provide that Woodcock may be shot between the first Tuesday in July and the first day of March; Grouse or Prairie Chicken, from the 12th of August to January 1st; to the Patridges from the first Tuesday in September to the 1st of Febuarary; Quail from the first Tuesday in October to the 1st of Febuarary. Every person who kills one of these birds at other times than these mentioned above, makes himself liable to a fine, one-half of which goes to the complainant. These laws were enacted for the preservation of the game in the State, and every violation of them should be followed by the penalty.

MORTALITY AMONG U. S. SENATORS.—Out of the fifty-nine members of the Senate during the last Congress, no less than five have already passed away, viz: Messrs Clayton, of Delewmre; Bell, of New Hampshire; Adams, of Mississippi; Butler, of South Carolina; and Rusk, of Texas.

Also, two members of President Pierce's Cabinet, viz: Gov. Marcy, Secretary of State, and Mr. Dobbin, Secretary of the Navy.

CHINESE SUGAR CANE.—The Prairie Beacon says, Mr. Baker, of Rochester Mills, Ill., is trying the experiment with the new sugar cane on the largest scale that we have ever yet heard of. He has now twenty acres growing on his farm. He is said to have stated the other day that it promised a fine crop. He is building a large mill, and procuring large cast iron tanks, to be used in the manufacture of the sap into molasses and sugar.

A PHILADELPHIA KHAN.—The Philadelphia Bulletin learns from Persia that Mr. Washington Carroll Tebis, of Philadelphia, lately in the service of the Sultan as Nessim Bey, has been made a Khan by the Shah, and received the title of Ranjeet Khan. His rank is that of Lieutenant-Col. of Artillery, and he is employed to reorganize the Persian army entirely. He has also received from the Sultan of Turkey a medal for his services in the war with Russia.

GAS AND STEAM IN EGYPT.—A company from Nice has entered into a contract with the Egyptian Government to light Alexandria with gas, and has already commenced the construction of the works. The Nile Steam Navigation Co. has already three steamers running, and is expecting nine others from Holland and England.

HANDSOME RAILROAD SUBSCRIPTION.—At a meeting held last week at West Union, Iowa, in behalf of the McGregor and St. Peters Railroad, the citizens subscribed $30,000 to the stock of the company.

THE GOODWOOD RACE.—Bell's Life in London, represents that Mr. Ten Broeck, the owner of the American horses, ascribed his defeat to Gilpatrick, the rider of Prioress, and discharged him on the spot. Forster's Spirit of the Times, we notice, takes Mr. Ten Broeck, severely to task for entrusting his horses to Palmer, the trainer. Forster says:

By reference to our special telegraphic report, it will be seen, that though our horses looked so fine to the eye, that Prioress elicited an involuntary burst of admiration which she first appeared, that as soon they felt the strain of the contest, they frothed and lathered and gave unmistakeable evicence of being full of fat. This grossness of condition may be attributed to several causes, but more particularly to the deficient judgment and want of discrimination on the part of their trainer.

There were difficulties enough before us, in our daring experiment, to require a capacity and an experience of the highest and most accomplished kind; and the difficulties which presented themselves in this case at the outset, were those which Palmer, of all men, was most unable to meet. The stimulating climate of England, not too hot nor too cold, is peculiarly adapted to increasing animal life; while the strong food of English oats, and the pea, either of which are nearly up to the strength of our corn, must have coated their insides with fat, which he had neither the knowledge nor the courage to work off.

There is something to be said, also, in relation to Mr Ten Broeck in this matter, who, it will be recollected, was absent from his horses for nearly five months after his arrival in Europe. It has been his misfortune, either through want of judgment or experience in racing, to imagine that there is not much difference in the capacity of trainers, and that a horse's merits are paramount to any deficiency on their part. Hence his large losses at the commencement of his Turf career. His subsequent success may be, in a great measure, attributed to the fact of his having fallen in with the best trainer in America—Mr. Pryor.

It will be seen the afore that our horses at Goodwood had but a poor chance to win—the owner being very superficially informed in relation to the character and capacity of the race horse, and the trainer being considered scarcely second-rate in this country. There is but little wonder, therefore, that the glaring deficiency of our horses, in relation to want of condition, should have elicited the sympathy even of their English opponents.

NEW VILLAGE.—GLEN BEULAH.—The Sheboygan Journal notices a new village, called Glen Beulah, which is springing up in that county at the terminus of the first division of the Sheboygan & Miss. R. R. The Journal says:

Many new buildings have been completed and a large number are now in course of construction. Among the latter is a large flouring mill, which will be completed and in running order the coming fall; the proprietors, Messrs. Swift, Dellingham & Co., who are men of capital and enterprize, have also just completed a large store and are filling it with a heavy stock of dry goods groceries, etc.

A gentleman from Boston, we learn, has recently arrived there with the intention of erecting a first-class hotel immediately.

NEW YORK STATE PRISON.—The recent report of the Inspectors of the New York State Prison, discloses the following facts:

"In 1856, it appears the expenses exceeded the the income only about eleven thousand dollars, whereas in former years the excess has varied from $20,000 to over $30,000. The Inspectors say this improvement is owing very much to the law of 1854, which requires purchases to be made for cash, and imposes several salutary restrictions on the financial operations of the officers. At Auburn, the earnings exceed the expenses by $8,710. The balance on the other side at Sing Sing is $9,585. At Clinton $10,084. The number of prisoners is, at Auburn, 886; at Sing, 973, (women 101) at Clinton, 304.

☞ Thousands of dogs are drowned at the dog pound in New York every summer. The carcasses of the dogs are taken to Barren Island, where every part of them is turned to some useful account. The fat is tried out, the skins are sold to glovers, and of the bones De Burg makes superphosphate of lime.

Letters about Milwaukee and Wisconsin.

NUMBER TWO.

MY DEAR[illegible]:—You are probably prepared from the nature of my last, for another eruption of the malady which as certainly takes possession of every new resident, as the fever and ague is indigenous to the climate of the Western country. And as the plague is generally severer than an attack, you will be surprised to find that my paragraphs are not confined to Milwaukee, but extend to the State, in which it is located.

Did you ever examine a map of the same? You would be charmed with the infinite number of lakes, with which the surface is overspread, from the minutest portion, entitled to the name of a body of water, to the magnificent sheet of Winnebago, some thirty miles in length. They are like so many amulets strung together, the gift of some sylvan god, to protect the country from evil: or as gems sprinkled in lavish profusion, from an abundant hand, which knows not its own wealth. This beautiful feature makes Wisconsin decidedly a Lake country, and it may in time claim a class of Lake poets. Imagine it shirred on the North, and East by the two great inland seas of Superior and Michigan, on the West by the great Father of Waters; threaded by innumerable rivers; enamelled by a thousand lakes; studded here and there with beautiful Oak openings; swelling occasionally into prairies, or covered again with heavy timber, and your love of the beautiful and picturesque will be carried captive. Add to this, its mineral wealth, its fertility of soil, and salubrity of climate, and you will have an idea of the prominence to which it is entitled in our world-renowned Union. Its comparative merits are not sufficiently appreciated; the late offspring of Uncle Sam, it is yet in its adolescence; but a child of great promise. Its advantages of being well wooded, and watered, joined to remarkable salubrity of climate, are of paramount importance, and place it on a scale far above many of her neighboring States. It covers an area of 54,000 square miles; but an extensive portion of the northwest is not yet redeemed from its native wildness. It contains fifty incorporated cities; though by an eastern standard, none but Milwaukee have the developements of a city. With city organizations, they are prospectively such; cities in embryo, they count on the great future, to nourish them into strength and manhood. Madison is the capital, and most picturesquely located upon elevated ground, between two of those lovely gems of water, to which I have before alluded; there are two others, close in its vicinity, and are respectively named Mendota, Menona, Waubesa, and Kingra.

It is pleasant, occasionally, to find and exemption from that vandalism of the white man, which seeks to efface from our country every impress of its aboriginal inhabitants; which would obliterate its poetry, as they drive out the red man with their enterprize and commerce. Indian names which are at all pronounceable, should be preserved in preference to importing them from foreign climes, to duplicating those already worn out by repetition, or to immortalizing individual patronymics, which have no claim to perpetuity. Our poetry should be written upon our hills and streams; our nationality and individuality, inscribed upon our mountains, and lakes; our independance, and its history, stenoned on the whole face of the country. The memory of our patriots, and statesmen, should be built up in the walls of our towns and cities; every legend, petty tradition and superstition connected with the race which is fast becoming extinct, should be woven into verses, our antecedents famed into song, and prolonged through the gallery of time, by poets of our own soil. As a nation, we have all the elements within ourselves; as a country the field is unbounded for the exercise of poetry in all of its departments. There is a music in Horicon, Waukesha, and Kenosha, far more grateful to the ear, than the hackneyed names of an old country. A modern Athens, Rome, and Palmyra, seem puny in their association with departed glory. Menomonee, Milwaukee and Sheboygan, have hardly the laughing, open sound of Minnehaha and Hiawatha, but perhaps upon the same basis, as our native Champagne, they but need a Longfellow, like a Longworth, to convert the still into the sparkling Catawba. Au Revoir.

ENIGMA.

THE OHIO DEFALCATION.—Mr. Gibson, the late Treasurer of Ohio, has recently been examined under oath. He says:

Every dollar of the public moneys which came to my hands while I filled the office of Treasurer of State was faithfully applied to the public service, or handed over to my successor, and not a dollar of such money is now in my hands, or remains unaccounted for.

The following question and answer are important:

Q. 28. What was your motive in carrying such a debt?

ANS. My motive was two-fold. It concerned both the State and myself. Mr. Breslin's official bond was for $250,000, whilst the default exceeded $500,000, besides the sums reported.

I was one of his sureties. Many of my personal friends and neighbors were bound with me.—I had no knowledge or suspicion of the default until some time after I came into office. Its immediate exposure involved the pecuniary ruin of myself and co sureties, as well as a great loss to the State. I could not see that delay would jeopardize any interests whatever. He never expressed any want of willingness or ability to liquidate the balance due from him. He gave me his earnest and repeated assurances that he would do so in a short time. The alternative was to make an immediate exposure, and thereby involve myself and friends in pecuniary ruin, and the State in certain loss, or conceal the fact, and exert myself to secure the amount due to the State.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—A correspondent of the Chicago Times, who has recently made a trip over the Pennsylvania route to the East, writes from New Haven to that paper as follows:

Editors Times—I told you I could do it, and I have done it—have with my family of eleven in all traveled from the Garden City to this of Elms, in a manner so comfortable that my usual serenity of temper has been disturbed but once, the good cause of which I will presently state; but first let me tell you of the pleasant part of the trip. Having provided myself with tickets from that indefatigable man and prince of agents, Wm. Boss, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, upon whose ever good natured countenance I thought the sale of tickets at wholesale had a happy effect, we took seats in the comfortable cars of that road, and after a delightful ride with attentive and obliging conductors, reached Pittsburg.

* * * *

The ride over the mountain by the great Pennsylvania Road, with its polite and obliging conductors and comfortable cars, would of itself be a luxury, but the mountain scenery adds greatly to the enjoyment of the trip; altogether it is the best appointed road and most interesting scenery I have ever seen. The change of cars at Harrisburg has been done away with since the purchase of the State road by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and but two changes of cars occur now from Chicago to Philadelphia.

* * * *

From Philadelphia, after a pleasant stay of a few days, we came to New York by the Camden and Amboy line—an exceedingly pleasant route, affording a fine sail and view of the city and harbor.

* * * *

From Chicago to New York, I know of no more delightful route than that via Fort Wayne, Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

☞ The Milwaukee and Horicon Railroad is now open to Berlin; and the citizens of the surrounding country have been celebrating the event which has brought the eastern world another half day nearer their doors. This company, notwithstanding the scoffing and sneers of its enemies and the croakings of the Fogy family, has gone steadily on minding its own business, and establishing public faith by its works; the magnitude and importance of which are second to no other railroad enterprize in Wisconsin. By the present arrangement Milwaukee is only about eight or ten hours from Wautoma, and Stevens' Point is fully twenty-four hours farther east than it was last Sunday. So clear the track!—Wautoma Journal.

"John," said a father to his son one day, when he caught him shaving the "down" off his upper lip, "don't throw your shaving water out where there are any barefooted boys, for they might get their feet pricked."

The English Attack on the Chinese War Junks.

A correspondent of the London Times gives a graphic account of the attack of the English fleet on the Chinese war junks. We extract the following:

ASSAULT UPON THE JUNKS—A "HELL OF FLYING IRON."

From the top of the hill I have a most magnificent panoramic view of the operations below. Lieutenant Fowler has brought one of the Chinese guns to bear upon the junks, and the junks fire up at us, but neither do much damage. Now Elliot and his captains run down to their boats and follow the Haughty, which is already clear of the Island and up with the junks beyond.—The marines descend into the paddyfields at the foot of that side of the hill fort which faces the junks, and, up to the waist in water, they take out shots at the Chinamen. The Haughty drives right stem on into one of the two large junks that have been sweeping the channel, and cracks her like a nut shell. Forsyth jumps first on board, and the crew jump overboard. It is the old story, "Spose you come, I must go." The shots must be flying furiously down there, for 30 junks are blazing away their 12 guns each at the intruders, who rush into their creek from our side of the island, and 40 are equally rapid in their discharges upon the boats that have gone up on the other side. How any mortal thing can live in that hell of flying iron it seems impossible to conceive. The secret, I believe, lies in the precision of our men. They pull directly up alongside, and from the elevation of the guns the inevitable broadside of grape passes over their heads. I saw this happen in the case of Commodore Elliot's boat, which emerged unharmed from a charge I thought had annihilated it.—The junk had coolly waited till the boat was alongside, and then poured in its shot. It all passed high, and when the smoke cleared away the crew were running across the paddyfields, and the marines were shooting them.

The game was up. First came a rush of fire and a loud explosion. A pillar of white smoke rises high in the air and swells at the top like a Doric column. Then another and another, and the guns cease, and the cannon smoke blows away, and the boat's crews are rowing from junk to junk, and in two long lines, almost as far as the eye can reach, lie the junks, some kindling, some in full blaze, but all stranded and abandoned.

NOW UP THE RIVER WITH A RUSH.

"Never wait, lads," cried the Commodore, "leave those rascals to the gunboats and the fellows behind; push on ahead!"

Through the wilderness of junks they pulled, driving out their own crews by sheer audacity, and leaving little to be done by those who should come after. They shot through the lines up into the vacant channel. Some of his boats had been hulled by the junks; perhaps some lingered to pay a visit to a deserted Chinaman, or to stop his mouth; but Keppel still pressed onward, and where he goes he always gets some to follow. Where could he be going? Was it information or was it intuition? or has he resolved to attack with his seven boats the city of Fatshan and its population of 200,000 people? I have not asked him, and he has not said, but I suspect the city was his object.

With four galleys and three boomboats, carrying a gun each in their bows, they speed away from the conquered junks, and hold on for nearly four miles; but now there are junk masts in sight, and every one knows that a fight is coming. A little further on, and they come upon their prey, and also upon one of those strong positions which the Chinese have now learned how to take.

CUTTING THEM OUT—A SANGUINARY BATTLE.

No sooner did the boats appear in the narrow passage than twenty 32-pounders sent twenty round shot, and a hundred smaller guns sent their full charges of grape and canister at a range of 500 yards right among them. The effect was terrible. Keppel was sounding with the boat hook for water for the boomboats, and went back amid the storm to get them up. They start afresh and make another effort to get through. The Commodore pushes on ahead. If the guns of the Excellent had been in those Chinese junks, and had worked those 32-pounder guns, they could hardly have thrown the round shot straighter. Keppel's galley, not a large mark, is hit three times in two minutes; a 32-pounder shot strikes Major Kearny in the breast, tearing him to pieces. He must have died without a sensation. Young Barker, a midshipman of the Tribune, who wore upon his finger a ring bequeathed to him by his brother, who was killed at Inkerman, is down, mortally wounded. The Commodore's coxswain is killed, and every man of his crew are wounded. But the miracle is not that the men are falling, but that any escape. The God of Battle is there, and wonderful are the instances of His merciful protection. Captain Cochrane has the sleeve of his coat torn away by a shot, which leaves him unharmed.

A round shot enters the Tribune's boat and passes along her line of keel, from stem to stern without touching a man. "That was close, Victor," said Keppel to his flag lieutenant, as the cannon shot passed between their heads. Fortunately for himself, Victor (Prince Victor of Hohenlohe, as thorough and unpretending a British seaman as if his name were Drake or Jervis) was leaning forward, and using his handkerchief as a tourniquet to stop the bleeding of a seaman whose hand had just been shot off, otherwise that shot must have taken Victor's head off. As this time the galley was disabled, and she was drifting down under the guns of the junks.—Even Keppel saw that it would not do. The matter was, however, settled for him, for the next shot tore away the stern sheets of his galley while he was fortunately standing up with the tiller ropes in his hand. "Seymour, you must take me in," and he stepped from his shaking galley into the barge of the Calcutta. All the other occupants of the galley were also removed into the barge, all except the mangled corpse of the coxswain and the favorite dog of the Commodore, who had been accustomed to be tended by that man, and would not leave his body. With this freight the wreck of the galley drifted with the rising tide up toward the junks.

SPOILS OF THE VANQUISHED.

After the battle the British fleet flaunted with barbaric spoils; banners of every amplitude, some of them adorned with colossal pictures of the fat god Fo, flaunted upon the breeze. Mandarins coats' and Mandarins' breeches were freely worn. Commodore Elliot's crew were equipped each with a Mandarins' hat and foxes' tails.—They had dutifully reserved one for the Commodore, but I must confess I did not see him put it on. Around, for as the eye could reach, following the windings of this maze of creeks, eighty-nine war junks were smouldering or blazing, and every five minutes an explosion shook the air.

Next morning, as we passed down the river, two war junks appeared three miles astern, and fired a gun. They were chasing the barbarian fleet!

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

ABOUT GIRLS' NAMES.—The Green Bay Advocate—shall we say the Whig editor of that excellent paper?—indulges in the following reflections, caused by perusing a fancy-ville catalogue of the names of school-girls:

THE FASHION of girls' names changes almost as fast as the fashion of dress. From the good old Puritan times, when our great great grandmothers were Perseverances, and Patiences, and Charitys, and Prudences, and so forth—all illustrative of the straight and rigid ways of those days—there have been many gradations down to this time. When we were a boy, we recollect that the rage then was for "novel" names. The girls we used to go to school with were Amorilla, Amoretta, Emmogenias (not Imogenes), Evelinas, Rosalinas, and all that sort of magnificent thing. Since then, there have been many variations, until now the rage seems to be for something merely pretty —not magnificent or descriptive—but simply 'taking."

We have been looking through the "First Annual Report of the Board of School Commissioners of the city of Jamesville," a pretty good report, we reckon, containing 32 pages, and neatly printed at the Daily Standard office,—which establishment will please take this as our notice of the book. The names of the girl pupils give a pretty good insight into the present style. There are Lizzies, Carries, Libbies, Hatties, Jennies, Fannies. We do not find but one plain Elizabeth, one or two Caroines, and one Harriet. But we will take the liberty to guess that all these Lizzies were christened Elizabeths, all these Hatties were once Harriets, and so on. The Addies were once Adalines; the Maggies once Margarets; the Mattes once Martinas.—They have all emerged from that chrysalis and come out butterflies. Well, that is all right enough, and we have no fault to find with it. It only pains us that there are some of the dear little creatures who cannot adopt this by termination. Now, Mary would have to be Marrie, and the significance of that, though probably not unpleasant to the owner, would be considered forward. Helen, would be Hellie, and that would be bad. Augusta would be Auggie—not at all pretty. Henrietta would be Hettie, having a Shanghai flavor. And Catharine would be Cattie, (Caroline having appropriated Carrie,) certainly not an improvement.

FACTS FOR THE CURIOUS.—Thomas Jefferson and John Adams both died on the 4th of July, 1826. John Adams died in his 91st year, and was eight years older than Thomas Jefferson; Thomas Jefferson was eight years older than James Madison; James Madison was eight years older than James Monroe; James Monroe was eight years older than John Quincy Adams. The first five of our Presidents—all revolutionary men—ended their terms of service in the 65th year of their age. Washington, born February 22, 1732; inaugurated 1789; term of service expired in the 66th year of his age; John Adams, born October 19, 1735, inaugurated 1797; term of service expired in the 69th year of his age; Thomas Jefferson, born April 21st, 1743; inaugurated 1801; term of service expired in the 65th year of his age; James Madison, born March 4th, 1751; inaugurated 1809; term of service expired in the 65th year of his age; James Monroe, born April 2nd, 1759; inaugurated 1817, term of service expired in the 66th year of his age.

THE LATE GOV. MARCY ON GAMBLING.—The Governor was present at a dinner party, and after dinner, cards were introduced. The Governor was invited to game at whist, to which he had no objection, but when money was named, although "it was only a small sum, to keep the game," he replied, "No, gentlemen, not six cents, to save the city from sinking." Once only, when a young man, he had played for a quarter of a dollar; he was startled by the error, and had never repeated it.

TEN YEARS'
ACQUAINTANCE WITH Wells's Cement Roofing.
SUCH FACTS as are herewith and have heretofore been presented to the public, where this roofing material has been used any considerable length of time, that the misrepresentations of the designing and interested parties, to seriously injure its reputation, cannot shake the confidence of a discriminating public.

It is very well known that a large number of the most elegant residences, commercial blocks and public edifices ever erected in this city are under the protection of this fire and water proof roofing, and that it has given such universal satisfaction here as elsewhere, that the demand for it this season is more than double what it was last year, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts made to introduce various other articles for a similar purpose.

SYRACUSE, June 14th 1857.
The undersigned has been acquainted with Wells's Galvanic Cement, for nearly ten years past, and has used it and supplied it to buildings in various parts of the city, well satisfied with its durability and general fire and water proof qualities that he has applied it to some new buildings which he has erected during the past winter and spring.

There is no doubt but the cement is in better repair here than ever before.
A. CRIPPEN.

SYRACUSE, June 9, 1857.
This may certify that I have a building covered with Wells's Galvanic Cement some four or five years ago and at the time of its destruction by fire last fall the roof was perfectly tight.

I have no hesitation in recommending the cement to those who wish to procure good and lasting roofs.

N. B. When the building was burned the roof did not take fire at all until the roof boards burned through.
ALEXANDER MITCHELL.

SYRACUSE, June 10, 1857.
The undersigned occupied a building covered with Wells's Galvanic Cement, which was burned in the great fire last fall. The roof had been on two years and at the time it was burned was apparently as good as when first put on. The fire was blown up against the tarred roof, principally upon the roof and it did not take fire, and when the walls fell the roof was entire except where the roof boards were burned completely through; there could not have been a more thorough trial of fire and water, and could have stood the test better than this Roofing Material
E. HAMMOND,
C. F. JOHNSON.

SYRACUSE, June 9, 1857.
Wells's Galvanic Roofing is more extensively used here and in all the large towns than it ever was before.

This roofing composition rests upon its own merits, and where it has been used it has given perfect satisfaction; there are hundreds who have had roofs on from two to five years, and not one has failed that was well done. It will last twice as long as the best tin.
N. F. GRAVES.

MILWAUKEE, July 27, 1857.
I have been a resident here twenty-two years, laid the first brick and topped out the first chimney in this city, and have been a builder ever since; am acquainted with all kinds of Roofing, and, in my opinion Wells' Galvanic Cement is superior to any other in use in all respects.
WILLIAM SIVYER.

I have been extensively engaged in building for nearly twenty years in the city of Boston, and am acquainted with various kinds of Roofing material. I regard Wells' Composition Roofing as the best article for covering buildings now in use. I have had it put on to a dwelling house which I have built this season for myself.
GEO. CHASE.
Oshkosh, August 1st, 1857. Architect and Builder.

To the proprietors of Wells' Patent Galvanic Roofing:
GENTLEMEN:—We are some of the numerous property-holders of this city who have availed ourselves of the advantages which your Plastic Composition Roofing Material affords, and we must candidly and unhesitatingly say, that our experience and observations thus far, fully sustain and corroborate the proof you have heretofore presented to the public, through the Milwaukee press, of the superior claims of your roofing material.
C. D. Gross, Danie. Newman, Ansmus Sweet, E. B Wolcott, E. Ellison, G. Alexander, M. A. Kreg, B. Heller, Ernst Berger, P. Hallmann, builder, Tobbetts, Stark-weather & Co., J. B. Parry, Wm. H. Young, John Hoxsey-beck, B. & B Stacie, Th. Nielsteen, Babcock Bros., builders, W. H. Metcalf, G. Pfister & Co., Haven Powers, G. A. Starkweather, J. M. Shaplin, Chapin, Gregory & Armour, Bailey & Isham, Chas. B. Austin, E. B. Silkman, carpenter & builder, Plisha Starr, P. Love, W. P. Merrill, H. Konkle, builder, Ch. Preusser, L. Kodolz & Co., Geo. F. Austin, H. A. Nichols, Marcy & Rogers, builders, H. H. Camp.

Within the past year I have paid Three Hundred and Seventy Three Dollars for repairing leaky and defective roofs. The Composition used for such improvements is known as Wells's Galvanic Cement for Roofing. I am so well satisfied of the value received for the expenditure and of the superiority of this article for roofing purposes, over any other article now in use, that I have engaged to have it applied on the new building I am now having erected on the corner of East Water and Michigan sts.
ALEXANDER MITCHELL.

From our knowledge of the composition for covering buildings, buildings, known as "Wells's Galvanic Cement" for Roofing, which has been very extensively used in this city the past year, with perfect satisfaction to those who have employed it, we most cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other article of the kind now in use and worthy of the fullest confidence of the public.

The Newhall House and the Exchange Block, two of the most elegant, costly and imposing structures ever erected in the West, are covered with this roofing material, and two more perfectly tight and weather-proof roofs cannot be found in this or any other city, as owners, builders and architects will testify. We refer to this for obvious reasons.

Numerous town and county rights have been purchased by architects, builders and practical men, who are applying this roofing material in various parts of the State, from whom we are obtaining large orders for stock.

Individual rights, with stock and printed directions, furnished at reasonable rates, to any part of the State, which has not been disposed of.

Any amount of additional proof in relation to the superiority of this roofing material over any and every other article now in use, can be seen by calling at our office, 289 E. Water St.

LESSONS IN Foreign Languages.
MR. AND MRS. L. S. R. DE CRETY, from PARIS, for four years past instructors in foreign languages in Milwaukee, have the honor to inform the public that they will form classes in the French, Italian and Spanish Languages on the 1st of September next. The course of instruction will be according to the age and intelligence of the pupils, and the closest kept entirely separate; their hours being arranged with that view.
Gentlemen and ladies who begin to speak either of these languages, can receive lessons in Reading and Conversation, Mr DE CRETY furnishing books of the best French authors. Those too willing to learn vocal music in either of these languages, will find a competent music teacher in the establishment.
The hours of instruction are to be from 8 to 11 o'clock A. M., and from 2 to 5 P. M., and in the evening from half past 6 to 8, for conversation.
Mr. DE CRETY will also give lessons in French, Spanish and Italian, at his office, to gentlemen only, from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening, as also lessons in Fencing, the use of the Sword, and all military exercises. Persons of delicate constitution and feeble temperament, as also those confined to their offices and engaged in sedentary occupations, will derive from these exercises, improvement in their health, acquire strength in their limbs and find an agreeable recreation.
Mr. DE CRETY will also form a similar classes for children, from 10 to 13 years old, at his house, or office, as parents may prefer. Fathers and mothers who desire to see their children strong, active and robust, can judge for themselves, after a few weeks trial, as to the effect of these different exercises upon their health.
The combined patronage of the publicis respectfully solicited.

TO MERCHANTS.—Mr. DE CRETY will take charge of French correspondence, all the principalcities of France and will procure all Price Currents that they may want
